Intro: [G] [G] [G] [G]

Verse:

When the [G] sun goes down on [G] my side of town

That [G] lonesome feelin' comes [G7] to my door

An' the [C] whole world turns... [C][G] blue [G]

There's a [G] rundown bar across the [G] railroad tracks

I got a [G] table for two, [G7] way in the back

Where [C] I sit alone... [C] and I think of [G] losin' you [G]

I spend most [D7] every night be-[D7] neath the light of a [G] neon moon [G7]

Chorus:

Now, if you [C] lose your one and [D7] only

There's always [C] room here for the [D7] lonely

To watch your [C] broken dreams dance in and [D7] out of the beams

Of a [G] neon moon. [G]

Verse:

I think of [G] two young lovers a-runnin' [G] wild and free

I [G] close my eyes and [G7] sometimes see

[C] You in the shadows... [C]... of this [G] smoke-filled room [G]

No tellin' [G] how many tears I've [G] sat here and cried

Or [G] how many lies [G7] that I've lied

[C] Tellin' my poor heart... [C]...she'll come [G] back someday [G]

Oh, but I'll [D7] be alright as [D7] long as there's light from a [G] neon moon [G7]

Chorus:

Now, if you [C] lose your one and [D7] only
There's always [C] room here for the [D7] lonely
To watch your [C] broken dreams dance in and [D7] out of the beams
Of a [G] neon moon. [G]

The [G] jukebox plays on [G] drink by drink
And the [G] words to ev'ry sad song seem to [G7] say what I think

But I'll [D7] be alright as [D7] long as there's light from a [G] neon moon [G7]

Now, if you [C] lose your one and [D7] only
There's always [C] room here for the [D7] lonely
